ROYAL ARCANUM CHIEFS ASSEMBLE IN RICHMOND

Heads of Order in Virginia and the United States Gather Here This Week.

GREAT RALLY AT ACADEMY

Governor Swanson and Others to Attend—Many Addresses to Be Delivered.

Members of the Royal Arcanum and their friends in this city are looking forward with more than ordinary interest to the grand rally to be held at the Academy of Music on Friday night, in honor of the visit of the executive committee of the Supreme and the Grand Councils.

The executive committee of the Supreme Council meets four times a year in various sections of the country, and this will be a regular quarterly session. Headquarters will be at the Jefferson Hotel, and meetings will be held on Friday and Saturday.

The executive committee of the Grand Council of Virginia will meet at the same hotel at noon on Friday, and will hold but one session. Following are the members:

H. C. Avery, grand regent, Norfolk; J. McCreedy, vice-grand regent, Roanoke; W. M. Dicker, past grand regent, Richmond; James B. Blanks, grand secretary, Petersburg; A. B. Botts, grand treasurer, Fredericksburg; E. J. O'Connor, executive officer, Portsmouth; Dr. A. G. Brown, Jr., state medical examiner, Richmond.

Rally at Academy.

An interesting and elaborate program has been prepared for the Academy rally, and a large attendance of members and their friends is anticipated. Seats will be free to the public, but children will not be admitted.

Governor Swanson, Lieutenant-Governor Elyton and many prominent men, including the city judges, are expected. A large number of new members recently initiated will be present by Mr. Howard G. Avery, of Norfolk, grand regent of Virginia.

The order is in a most flourishing condition, and its members are proud of its numerical and financial strength. During the month of November the Grand Council put aside the handsome sum of $350,000 as an emergency fund.

The order is constantly growing. Virginia's Grand Regent, Henry Kemp, has recently received a letter from the supreme regent praising his work and congratulating him on the new accessions in this State.

It was a formidable party which met the Richmond police and their prisoners. On the police boat was Detective Lieutenants John McMillan and James E. Murphy. On the Peninsula Railroad tug Lancaster were

J. Henry Tierney, a lawyer, taken along in the face of possible legal troubles; Inspector R. S. Graham and Captain G. F. Spencer, of the Pennsylvania Railroad police force, and L. L. Scher, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad police service.

"The police boat got tired of loafing about in the face of the police, and the Lustraria to come along, so the police were transferred to the cutter Calumet. They boarded the vessel from the cutter and afterwards the police boat came alongside and took the whole party off. The prisoner was taken to Jersey City and put on a train for Richmond."

In Washington.

The following was received from the special correspondents: The Times-Dispatch in Washington:

"Richmond officers arrived here tonight from New York with Miller, the notorious baggage thief, brought from London to answer for crimes committed by him and his gang in Virginia. The prisoner is in charge of Detective Sergeant Tom Wren and E. G. Bailey, who went to New York for the man, who was being held at Scotland Yard."

The officers landed with their prisoner from Mulberry Street Jail in that city last January. C. Manning, Jr., one of the Police Commissioners of Richmond, met the officers in New York, when they landed from the Lustraria, thinking he might be of service in a case in which it was made to retain the prisoner in the city of New York.

The new York authorities confessed to a case in which the prisoner was taken to a room in New York, but they let him come on to Richmond."

The officers and their prisoner ready to go to the city at night, and the party went at once to the city and the quarters. Miller was locked up, and the officers and Commissioner Manning were to catch the 12:30 train for Richmond in the morning. Miller will be held in the city until the 12:30 train for Richmond in the morning. Miller will be held in the city until the 12:30 train for Richmond in the morning.

SHIP EXHIBIT TO RICHMOND SOON

Professor Routzahn Visits City to Complete Arrangements for Campaign Here.

TO WORK IN SAENGER HALL

Professor Routzahn, director of the exhibit of the National Tuberculosis Association, will be in the city for a few hours yesterday in connection with the arrangements for installing the exhibit in Richmond. He reported that the exhibit is all packed and ready for shipment, and will be turned over to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad this morning, the whole making a solid carload. The railroad company will be asked to hasten the shipment as much as possible, so that the material will be in Richmond on Wednesday at the latest.

Saenger Hall Engaged.—Saenger Hall, on North Seventh Street, has been engaged for the use of the Tuberculosis Association, and carpenters and electricians will begin this morning putting up the necessary frames and special lights. It will take several days to install the exhibit, and it is expected that the exhibit will be ready for public view next Monday morning. For the week from December 15th through the 21st the exhibition will be open from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. The exhibit is intended to emphasize the fact that it is absolutely free to all visitors. Not only is the admission free, but there is in the exhibition nothing to sell, and nothing to be given. It is purely and simply an effort on the part of public-spirited citizens who have contributed to the expense fund to benefit the popular interest and intelligence in the proper treatment of the disease, and in the prevention of its spread.

Will Give Lectures.—The exhibit will contain photographs, diagrams, models and charts, which will be open throughout the day to public inspection. Each hour, or often if the attendance justifies, Professor Routzahn will give an illustrated stereoscopic lecture on the disease, and the exhibit is intended chiefly for well people, who have the care of consumptives, or who, through the complex conditions of city life, are in danger of taking the disease from those about them.

It may be positively stated on authority of the chairman of the committee, Dr. Levy, and of Dr. Routzahn, that there will be absolutely nothing offensive or dangerous about the exhibit. ## EXTEND WORK IN ALL DIRECTIONS

Presbyterians Organize New Congregation, Open New Chapel and Decide to Buy Lot.

NOTABLE DAY IN CHURCHES

Substantial progress in church extension along a number of different lines was made by Richmond Presbyterians yesterday, the day being many respects a notable one in the local history of the denomination. A new congregation was organized in Fairmount, with prospects for rapid growth in that prosperous section of the city. A new territory, a chapel was dedicated on the Brook Turnpike for Sunday-school and preaching purposes in a neighborhood which may one day develop an independent church; final steps were taken looking to the purchase of lot in Fulton on which a chapel and Sunday-school room will soon be erected; notice was given of the completion of the handsome new Church of the Covenant at the corner of Park Avenue and Harrison Street, fronting on Howitzer Place, in one of the most commodious locations in the residential section of the city. This latter house of worship will be formally opened next Sunday with appropriate services, and its completion will mark the most important advance made in church erection by the Presbyterians of this congregation.

Under the auspices of the Grace Street Presbyterian Church, a Sunday school has been maintained for the past eight years in the city limits. With the assistance of students from Union Theological Seminary, this work is being continued by the students of the denomination, and the demand for a permanent building could no longer be postponed. At a cost of about $50,000, the new building, which will be a fine example of modern architecture, is now being erected on the Brook Turnpike, and a neat chapel has been assumed in the new building. Yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the new building was dedicated, a large congregation, including many persons from the Grace Street Church, being present. The Rev. Charles H. Read, pastor of the Grace Street Church, presided at the service, and the new chapel was dedicated to the service of the community, assisted by members of the Grace Street Church and the First Presbyterian Church. Students from Union Theological Seminary conducted preaching services at this point every Sunday and Thursday night, and the new chapel was dedicated to the service of the community, assisted by members of the Grace Street Church and the First Presbyterian Church.

At the same hour yesterday afternoon an interesting service was held in Fairmount, when the Presbyterian church there was formally organized, with twenty-six charter members, most of whom bring their letters from the Home Memorial Church. The service was held in the new chapel, which is now being erected on the Brook Turnpike, and a neat chapel has been assumed in the new building.
